IN ROOM SIGNAGE

Maximise the use of the existing screens in your meeting rooms.

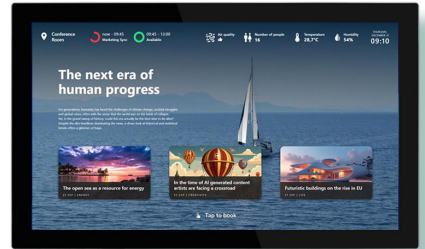

These screens can display versatile information about your company or practical details about the use of the meeting space.

In addition, In Room Signage also enables you to show content on the room panels located outside your meeting rooms; all without investing in new hardware.

This approach strengthens communication in high-traffic areas that employees pass through every day. Screens which would otherwise remain unused now actively support internal communication.

If you don't currently have a digital signage setup, your existing room panels can be repurposed immediately, helping you create a smarter, future-proof workplace.

IN ROOM SIGNAGE

- ✓ One screen, two purposes.
